A Tank Full of Gas and A Few Butterflies

I went on my first long distance drive on my own yesterday. (Long distance meaning more than 15 minutes.) I had to drive to the GST (Global) headquarters in Roodepoort, which is about an hour and a half drive. I got directions and took off with a full tank of gas and a few butterflies in my stomach. We have become moderately comfortable getting around Rustenburg, but Johannesburg and the surrounding townships are another creature. So, off I went into the great blue yonder seeking both my destination without too much adventure. After forging through increased traffic, I arrived without a hitch. I enrolled students for this semester, purchased study guides, took a tour of the GST facilities, and got some much needed information regarding our school. On my return home, I realized that much of life is like my journey to GST. Too often, I want to know not only the destination, but all the details for the journey before I leave. As we settle in and I begin working in the Academic office at the School, I realize that while the end destination is known, often God requires that we trust Him totally in the journey. As I seek to bring continuity to the office, I must trust God not only for the end, but the process as well. I am daily aware that I am not in the U.S. any more. Thank you to all of you who have been praying, giving, and emailing. We appreciate that we are not walking this journey on our own. May God Bless you as you trust Him in your journey as we trust Him in ours.

GST NW Spotlight

Dr. Frans & Jackie Kekana. He has been the president of the Bible School since Aug of 2007. He and his wife have 3 children ages 18—26. He has served as a pastor and educator for many years. Jackie has a heart for evangelism and regularly does outreaches into the community. We had them to our home for tea to get to know them better.

KIDS CORNER

We took a hike into the “Kloof” (cliff in Afrikaans) last week. It was a great family time where we saw some baboons and took pictures in front of one of the coolest water falls I have ever seen. The kids continue to adjust; I think the reality that we are not here on vacation is beginning to hit them. Please pray that as “real life” sets in they continue to do well.
